

Since 1974 the Federation has represented, supported and invested in credit unions that serve financially underserved communities. We have developed unique expertise and brought innovation to expand access to affordable and equitable financial services. The Federation is a resource for the entire credit union system and welcomes any credit union interested in serving untapped markets with tremendous growth potential. We offer three membership categories:

Community Development Credit Unions (CDCUs)

Credit unions of all charter types that serve a majority of low-income members are eligible to become Policy Members of the Federation. Low-income designation from NCUA automatically qualifies a credit union, but is not a requirement. (Please complete certification section).

Policy Members benefit from the full range of Federation services: Access to capital (Community Development Investment Program) and to Non-conforming secondary market (CDCU Mortgage Center); Advocacy, Education and Training Opportunities (CDCU Institute and Financial Literacy Programs); Expertise (Technical Assistance and CU Breakthrough Consulting Services); Financial Counseling (BALANCE); and much more. Policy Members elect the Federation's Board of Directors and set our policies.

Community Development Partners (CDPs)

Credit unions that do not serve a majority of low-income members but that are strongly committed to serving underserved groups. Many of the largest, most prominent credit unions in the country are in this category.

CDPs get free first-year tuition to the CDCU Institute™, financial literacy train-the-trainer seminars at no charge, consulting services (CU Breakthrough), Technical Support in establishing innovative programs like Individual Development Accounts (IDA), Assistance in developing collaborations with CDCUs and community-based organizations, Preferred rates for all Federation conferences, educational events, and publications, Recognition in the Federation's publications and website, Access to Non-Conforming Secondary Market (CDCU Mortgage Center).

Community Development Supporters

Credit unions that may not currently have a predominantly low-income membership but value the mission of community development credit unions and want to support our work.

Community Development Supporters get free Federation newsletters and bulletins; discounted member rates on publications and seminars. Also eligible to participate in the CDCU Institute and Federation's Financial Literacy Programs.

Dues Schedules

Dues are based on a credit union's assets as of the close of the prior calendar year. Please select your dues.

Community Development Credit Unions only!

Are you low-income designated?    yes       no

Are you CDFI certified?       yes       no

If you answered "no" to both of these questions please complete the certification below.

The Federation does not require credit unions to obtain NCUA low-income designation or CDFI certification as a condition of membership, although both are considered desirable. However, we do require all of our policy members to certify in good faith that they serve a predominantly low-income population and have a primary mission of promoting the development of the community or communities they serve. If you don't believe you meet these criteria, you are welcome to join us as a Community Development Supporter.

"I certify that this credit union serves predominantly low-income populations and has a primary mission of promoting community development"
